the posted slides without meaningful lecture attendance and participation tend to result in failure.

Recitations: The goal of recitations is to further engage students with the nuances of the material and provide them with the opportunity to practice the various steps of solution algorithms. Recitations will be held once a week by teaching assistants , who will review the key elements of the core material and help the students work on the recitation worksheets posted on Canvas before each session in a small group environment. While answer 494.95 643600 curves might be institu the use of a calculator (NOT a cell phone) is permitted for all exams. Note that Extra credit: A 1% overall bonus will be given to any student who scores above 90% on a midterm therefore the total extra credit from the midterms is 4%. An additional 1% is given to all students if at least 75% of the class completes the midterm survey by the posted deadline, and another 1% is awarded to everyone for FQQ response rates exceeding 75%. Further extra Resources: All relevant resources including lecture notes, recitation worksheets, homework and exam answer keys will be posted on Canvas page under the tab, however, the most valuable resource is set of written notes.

Required materials: All students are expected to attend dass equipped with a set of writing instruments and a calculator (NOT a cellphone). Acceptable examples of writing instruments include pens or pencils with a notebook, or a tablet with a smart stylus. While laptops are permitted for viewing posted materials, they will NOT be suitable for meaningful note taking.

Optional materials: The University provides virtual access to the textbook supplementing the course via the tab on the Canvas page at a discounted price. Should the student plan to use a paper copy instead, they need to make sure to opt out by the deadline to avoid any unwanted charges. The textbook is considered merely a supplementary material for this course, and thus its use will not make up for a lack of attendance or insufficient notes. Note that since owning the textbook is optional, older editions are also permitted which can be accessed at a significantly lower price point.

Grading

The weights for

If you have a temporary medical condition or required medical isolation for which you require accommodation, please contact the instructor of record immediately. Also see Temporary Medical Conditions on the Disability Services website.

PREFERRED STUDENT NAMES AND PRONOUNS

CU Boulder recognizes that students' legal information doesn't always align with how they identify. Students may update their preferred names and pronouns via the student portal; those preferred names and pronouns are listed on instructors' class rosters. In the absence of such updates, the name that appears on the class roster is the student's legal name.

HONOR CODE

All students enrolled in a University of Colorado Boulder course are responsible for knowing and adhering to the Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code may include but are not limited to: plagiarism (including use of paper writing services or technology [such as essay bots]), cheating, fabrication, lying, a concern and the support resources available. To learn more about reporting and support resources for a variety of issues, visit______.

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS

Campus policy regarding religious observances requires that faculty make every effort to deal reasonably and fairly with all students who, because of religious obligations, have conflicts with scheduled exams, assignments or required attendance. In this class, please contact the instructor of record for such accommodations.

See the campus policy regarding religious observances for full details.