

3D visualization of a geological structure. The structure is shown in a perspective view, with a color scale ranging from blue to red. The structure is composed of several layers and features, including a central peak and surrounding slopes. The visualization is presented in a grid of six rows and two columns.

ET CA ET D

A full text description of the geological structure, detailing its composition and features. The text is presented in a grid of six rows and two columns, corresponding to the visualizations above.

122 (2000).

⁶A. t. ., z. . B 65, 16530. (2002).

7